

House of Representatives (January 2018)

- The House of Representatives has 275 MPs. 165 of them have been elected in the elections of November/December 2017 through the direct election system (First-Past-The-Post, FPTP). 110 MPs have been elected under the Proportional Representation (PR) system that shall guarantee proper representation of ethnic, gender and other social groups of the population.
- 49 political parties participated in the elections.